OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE COUNTY.

J. A. & E. ESTILL, Publishers.

MILLERSBURG, OHIO.

THURSDAY, NOV. 22, 1860.

Non-Hugh J. Jewett—Let the Campaign be Continued.

The Democracy and especially those who are now paying the large increase of taxes heaped upon them by the corrupts of Black Republican State Officers, are anxious to see the affairs of State placed in other hands. The Democrats will go into the next State contest with an earnestness and a zeal seldom equalled while thousands of men will join us who voted with the Republicans at the recent election without being advised of the great corruptions and consequent increase of taxes the present dynasty have to answer for. But to make success certain it behooves the Democracy to nominate the very best and purest of men for State and legislative offices. In casting around among the talented men of the State for a candidate for Governor we can find no one who would be more worthy or less objectionable than Hon. HUGH J. JEWETT, of Muskingum county. Mr. Jewett is possessed of a high order of native talent, sound legal ability, good business habits, unimpaired moral character, great personal popularity and untarnished Democracy. The strongest evidence of his worth, and the esteem in which he is held by those who know him best is the fact that at the October election he was a candidate for Congress, and in Muskingum county he ran far ahead of the ticket and 1100 better than the ticket had done one year before. Let the Convention be held on the 8th of January, and Mr. Jewett be nominated for Governor, and we may look for the redemption of Ohio from Black Republicanism.

Secession.

The secession movement in the South is still gaining strength. No Southern States seem to be opposed to it save Kentucky and Missouri. It is questionable whether the right exists to force seceding States into submission, and it is alike questionable whether the remaining States will have the power to do so.

The causes which have led to this movement on the part of the South are numerous. Among them we may name the bitter denunciations of the South by Northern men on the stump, in the pulpit and through the press; the stealing and running off of slaves by Northern fanatics; the Northern endorsement of the John Brown raid; the resistance, in every Northern State, to the execution of the Fugitive Slave Law; the nullification of that law by ten of the Northern States which have made its execution punishable by fine and imprisonment; and, finally, the election of Lincoln, the author of the 'Irrepressible Conflict' doctrine, and the consequent endorsement of all the wrongs and indignities that have been heaped upon the South.

The Democratic party have ever strove against the sad calamity of a disruption of this happy confederacy of States, they have warned the mad adherents of fanaticism that as Saxon pulled down the pillars of the temple and was destroyed by its fall, so they too, were tearing down the only temple of liberty to be crushed beneath its ruins. But the efforts of those who have stood up for the Union and the equality of all sections of it are likely to prove fruitless and they are left the disagreeable alternative of seeing this happy constellation of States dismembered, severed, rent with feuds and probably drenched with fraternal blood.

With all these facts in full view the mad, fanatical, abolitionists, the cowardly patriots, are continually daring the South to resist, thus adding insult to injury. They promise no abatement of their crusade against the South, but their cry is still "war to the knife and knife to the hilt." We pray that this Union, the only abiding place for liberty, may withstand the tempest but our hope is faint, indeed. No one can now foretell the fate of the Union or the horrors that the coming year may bring upon us.

Look Out.

The disunion movement in the South, and the general want of confidence in the perpetuity of the Union, in all sections of the country, are likely to have a disastrous effect on commercial and monetary affairs. Eastern houses are failing daily. Within a week Western and Southern money has fallen to from 5 to 10 per cent below par. This combined with the heavy increase of taxation in this State, as well as in others, is likely to give us pretty hard times in the future. We would caution our readers against sleeping with much foreign paper money about them. We have no fears for the Bank of the State of Indiana, but keep a look out for the paper money of other banks outside of Ohio.

From California.

The latest news from California election gives returns from about half the State, which foot up as follows: Lincoln 27,058 Douglas 24,422; Breckinridge 20,638; Bell 4,002. Lincoln ahead of Douglas 2,636. Lincoln's vote surprises politicians, still Douglas' chance is considered rather best. Legislature probably Douglas majority over both Lincoln and Breckinridge in each House securing sufficient strength to elect a Douglas Senator to succeed Gwin.

Odds and Ends.

It is said South Carolina will under no circumstances back down from the disunion position she has taken. The United States flag is not now recognized in any part of the state.—A convention will be held in Georgia on the 5th of December to settle on a plan of secession. The leading men of all parties in Alabama had a conference on the 16th inst., and unanimously agreed to a State Convention. They recommend resistance, the time and mode to be settled by the Convention. Good feeling prevailed. Governor Letcher, of Virginia, has called an extra session of the Legislature, for the 7th of January, to take into consideration the question of secession. Dispatches from Virginia state that Governor Wise has pronounced inane. The Democrats have gained seven Members of Congress in the New York delegation.—The Fremont (Ohio) Messenger has come out for STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS for President in 1864.—A few days ago a German woman in Kenton, this state, was so severely injured by being hooked by a cow that she died in a few hours after the wounds were inflicted.—Tom Bantley, the great Breckinridge champion of O., joined with the Republicans in their glorification over Lincoln's election. If they keep Tom in office he will stick with them till doomsday.—SENATOR HUNTER, the quiet and cautious statesman, is preparing a strong appeal against any resistance to Lincoln's election until he shall commit the overt act.—It is not doubted that SENATOR PEARCE of Maryland, will take an early occasion to resist the plans of the Secessionists in the Senate of the United States, and that he will be backed by his colleague, Hon. ANTHONY KENNEDY, in the good work.—LINCOLN'S majority over DOUGLAS, in Illinois, is said to be about 11,000.

Population of Kansas Territory.

The population of the Territory of Kansas, as ascertained by the United States census, just taken, is 109,401. This does not include the Pike's Peak region, which has a population of 75,000 more. Kansas proper has, therefore, 12,000 more people than would entitle her to elect a member of Congress at the present time. There can be no doubt that as the most stringent provision of the 'English Bill' has been complied with, Kansas will be admitted into the Union as a State the coming winter. No reason can now exist for her refusal.

Station House Burned.

The large Station House at Crestline was burned on Friday afternoon. The building being of pine it burned very rapidly. In forty minutes after discovery of the fire the whole superstructure was in ruins. The losses are estimated as follows: P. Ft. & C. Railroad Co., $15,000; Myer's Saloon $200; American Express Co., $200; Telegraph Co., $150. The fire originated in the baggage room.—The baggage was nearly all saved.

A Crumb of Comfort.

The old saying that "there is no great loss without some small gain," was well exemplified by the tidings of the defeat of the notorious Burlingame for Congress, in Massachusetts, and the defeat of Pennington, the Republican Speaker of the House of Congress, in New Jersey. Burlingame was especially odious by his ultra Abolitionism, and his defeat was earnestly desired by all national men.

The 8th of January.

It is proposed to hold the Democratic State Convention at Columbus on the 8th of January. We are in favor of this move, and we hope the State Central Committee will attend to the matter at an early day. Let us nominate a good ticket on the ever glorious 8th, and go to work on the corruptionists who are robbing the people of Ohio and the State will be redeemed next October.

A Huge Majority.

According to Mat. Johnson, the National Democrat & Co., the majority against the Democracy in Holmes county at the recent election was 3,626. The Democratic vote being but 49, (the Breckinridge vote), while the vote cast for Douglas Lincoln and Bell was 3,675, just leaves 3,626 majority against the Democracy.—That Breckinridge firm is a fine establishment.

Remember their Promises.

Before the election the Republican stumpers promised the people that if Lincoln was elected, every man should have 160 acres of land. They also promised the old soldiers of the war of 1812, that if Lincoln was elected, they, like the soldiers of the Revolution, should have pensions for life. We want our readers to remember these promises and see if they will live up to them.

Relief for Kansas.

Gov. DENISON has issued his proclamation calling upon all the churches to take up contributions for the destitute in Kansas, on the 29th inst. the day set apart for Thanksgiving and Prayer, throughout Ohio; and a number of other States. From all accounts the suffering in Kansas is terrible, approaching closely to the great famine in Ireland.

Didn't Pay.

The Breckinridges paid $500 for a Black Republican printing office editor and all, in Columbus, turned the Douglas men out of the Post office, and tried to raise a mob generally, and after all this Breckinridge received but 41 votes in the city. That Capital City Post must have a tremendous influence.

FROM SALT RIVER.

Correspondence of the Dayton Empire, improved.

Items Gathered on the Route.

STEAMER LITTLE GIANT.

November 15th, 1860.

DEAR EDITOR.—After packing up my trunk, and getting on the wharf, just as the fast Salt River Steamer, "Little Giant," was casting off line. I immediately presented my ticket, which being examined and found correct, secured me a place in a crowded berth, the best the Captain could do for me, under the circumstances.

Our crew is as jolly a set as ever cast anchor or reefed a sail. The passengers are generally jovial, with the exception of one or two, who have heretofore wintered on the banks of the saline stream to which we are going, and have no curiosity in that way, cannot appreciate the good humor of their companions; their recollection of friends left behind, dims the eye and dampens their feelings of geniality. But we are having a good time.

We passed the steamer Bill Everett, yesterday, on her way "up." She was bravely breasting the current, and her passengers in "good condition." They were singing the "Star-Spangled Banner" and "Jordan is a Hard Road to Travel."

Shortly after passing the above steamer, we were in sight of The Breckinridge. She was crowded, and her passengers seemed to be perfectly resigned to a winter's sojourn on the banks of the old salt stream. When we all get uncomfortably settled in our new quarters, I shall have something to say of the different crowds as they arrived.

BANK OF SALT RIVER.

Next Week 22d.

Well, here we are, as you will perceive by date of letter, "knocked into the middle of next week." Our steamer arrived right up—the others have not got in yet. I wish I could give you a true picture of the sight that met our eyes, as we neared the mouth of Salt River. The cry of "sail ho," brought the Captain to the deck, and by the aid of a powerful microscope, he descried a black, ugly looking craft beating down upon us from the mouth of Salt River. It proved to be the Black Republican, coming down, which was loaded to the guns. Oh! but the passengers were a sorry-looking set, tall, lean, gaunt, ghastly! They looked as though they had subsisted, during their Salt River sojourn on miasma and moonshine. The whole crew would scarcely make a decent shoal.

"Honest Old Abe" who commanded the craft, stood on the hurricane deck, surrounded by "Mrs. Honest Old Abe" and a whole lot of "Honest Old Abe's." He had an old wooden maul on his shoulder, and fourteen heavy iron wedges in his coat pocket. Scattered around him were the fragments of several torn-up copies of the 'Irrepressible Conflict,' and also his correspondence with the 'Ultras' and the 'Raggle Issue Men' of his party. He seemed to be very much in the condition of the man who won the Elephant. He had a body guard to protect him from the office-seekers, who were howling and yelling about him and lighting round as ravenously as the locusts, the lice, and the frogs lit down on Egypt.

The Salt River country is in the most horrible condition. The Republicans, who have been up here for a long time, have completely 'cleaned out' everything. It was an act of charity to give them an opportunity of leaving here for a while; two years more sojourn would have finished every mother's son of them. The Democrats, being in good keeping, will be able to stand it pretty well for a while. The overland company commanded by Captain Burke and Thomas McCall, of Stark county, arrived here in good condition; the other two steamers are also in; and owing to the scarcity of provision, a general meeting was held, at which it was unanimously resolved to leave here immediately after the next election. Republicans will take notice.

P. S.—Your old friend William Helmick is here, and I never see him without being reminded of Napoleon on the island of St. Helena. We will take good care of him, during our stay; after that, he will have to 'scratch' for himself. For heaven's sake, don't send us any more election returns. We also have a delegation of starved Republicans from Holmes county, whom we suspect as having suffered many terms of banishment to this inhospitable climate. They say that the Holmes county Democrats never visit this detestable region.

Yours, hopefully,

PHOENIX.

The Republicans have rejoiced much at the rare Old Abe ran in his own county, and bragged and blustered because he had carried Sangamon county, Illinois. In old times that county was a steadfast Whig county, and hence there is no reason or sense in rejoicing if he had. But the truth is he did not do so. The official vote gives the county to Douglas.—In the city of Springfield, Lincoln beat Douglas 69 votes, and in the county Douglas beat Lincoln 111, making Douglas' majority in the city and county 42 in the Senatorial race in 1858. Douglas beat Lincoln in Sangamon county and now he beats him again, thus beating him twice in hotly contested elections in his own home.—Statesman.

TO DRIVE AWAY RATE.—A correspondent of the Gardner's Monthly says: "I tried the effect of introducing into the entrance of their numerous holes, runs or hiding places, a small portion of chloride of lime, or bleaching powder, wrapped in calico and stuffed into the entrance holes, and thrown loose by spoonfuls into the drain away for a twelve-month, when they returned to it. They were treated in the same manner, with like effect. The cure was most complete. I presume it was the chlorine gas which did not agree with their olfactorys."

DIPHTHERIA.—This dangerous throat disease continues to make fearful ravages among children in many parts of the State. Proving fatal in most cases, notwithstanding the efforts of physicians.—The malady begins with a cold and soreness in the throat, and progresses with the formation of a membrane in the wind pipe, which chokes the little sufferer to death. In view of the present prevalence of this unmanageable and exceedingly perilous disease, parents should be especially careful to guard their children from exposure and cold.

VICTOR EMANUEL has gained another great victory.

Northern Nullification and Southern Secession.

Near the close of the first term of Gen. Jackson's Administration, the Legislature of South Carolina passed an Ordinance declaring the protective tariff acts of Congress, then in force, unconstitutional, null and void, and ordering the militia and other military forces of the commonwealth to hold themselves in readiness to oppose the aggressions of the General Government. The excitement produced throughout the country, and especially at the North, by this movement in a single State, nullifying a revenue law of the United States, was tremendous, and led to the passage of an act, by Congress, authorizing the President to crush out all resistance to the execution of that law, by summoning to his aid all the military resources of the Confederacy.

"South Carolina Nullification" is used to this day, by many Northern men, as a by-word and a term of reproach. But the same thing has been done, not by a single Northern State only, but by at least a dozen of them. Let facts speak for themselves. A law of Congress enacted to carry out the provisions of the Federal Constitution relating to the rendition of fugitive slaves, has been in existence since 1793. This law has been pronounced constitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States, and by the highest judicial tribunals in nearly every Northern State, Ohio not excepted. Yet, a majority of these States have nullified the Fugitive Slave Law.

The Republican party came into existence, or at least took form and shape, at the Philadelphia Convention in 1850—since that time, through the promulgation of that party in Northern State Legislatures, Personal Liberty bills, as they are called, and other acts have been passed nullifying the Fugitive Slave act, and preventing, as far as State authority can do it, its execution. Yet no 'Force Bill' has been passed by Congress authorizing the President, in case of South Carolina nullification, to crush out resistance to the execution of a law of the United States, by summoning to his aid all the military resources of the Confederacy.

The Southern people have submitted to these aggressions upon their constitutional rights in comparative quiet until now. A President has been elected by the Republican majority in the Northern States, who is believed, from the declarations in the platform adopted by the Convention which nominated him, and from the avowed sentiments of the men who were the most active in securing his election, to be pledged to sustain the nullification acts of Republican State Legislatures.—The Southern people argue that, if these encroachments upon their constitutional rights are submitted to, other aggressions will follow in their train until the Southern section of the Union will be reduced to the condition of a mere vassal to the Republican majority in the northern section.

This has led to the secession movement now in progress at the South. As the primary cause, Republican nullification at the North is responsible for secession in the South. The Southern people, goaded by repeated nullifying and aggressive acts of Republicans at the North, have, doubtless, in many things, acted impulsively and indiscreetly. When South Carolina nullified a revenue law, the whole North was in a flame of excitement, and men were loud in their demands that the recreant Carolinians should be reduced to obedience by fire and sword, if necessary. Now, when the tables turn, when State after State has nullified a law of Congress, when the people of the South are persuaded that a majority in the North who can control the power and patronage of the Federal Executive, is against them, it is strange that they should offset nullification with secession.

We believe it is a mistake to suppose that the ultra Republicans are in a majority in the North. But that party has suffered itself to be guided and controlled by ultraists, and this has brought the Union to the verge of dissolution and ruin. It can be saved by Northern Legislatures retracing their steps and repealing their nullifying and other obnoxious acts. Will the Republicans, where they have the majority, permit this to be done? As yet we see no signs of relenting. Shall we have no assurances from Republican leaders and journals that they will use their influence for the repeal of the nullifying and aggressive acts of which the South complains? Will the Republican State organ, the Journal of this city, pledge its influence against the enactment, by the Republican Legislature next winter, of laws similar to those passed by our Republican law-makers in '57, for preventing and obstructing the execution of the Fugitive Slave Law in Ohio?

If Republicans persist in retaining and enforcing those nullification acts, and continue to maintain their aggressive attitude toward the Southern States, upon them alone must rest the chief responsibility of the present secession mischief and the fearful consequences that may follow. Statesman.

HOT CHOLERA.—We stated on Saturday that hot cholera prevailed among the wine not only in Indiana, but to a considerable extent in this city. The Lafayette (Ind.) Journal of Friday says that the disease has made its appearance at Logansport, and is being felt at Holland's distillery in the Southern portion of that city. During Wednesday and Thursday forty-five died, involving a loss of 5,500. They were sold to soap factories at one and a half cents per pound. The hogs were the property of Messrs. Telford & Co.—Louisville Journal.

A lady engaged one of the New York expressmen to carry a large looking-glass to her house. He broke it, and the Mayor made him buy another. Instead of taking it to the lady's house, he left it at the Mayor's office, where a sleepy Irishman fell against it, producing another crash. This lady seems destined not to see herself as others see her.

Pennsylvania made the first turnpike road in the United States, laid the first railroad, established the first water works, ran the first locomotive, established the first hospital, the first law school, the first public museum, the first hall of music, and the first library in the world opened freely to all. Good for Pennsylvania!

What's Up?

The leading BRECKINRIDGES of this State had a secret meeting at Crestline on Friday last. We have not learned the object of the meeting but the presumption is that it was for no good.

It is now certain that W. Pennington, of New Jersey, the Republican Speaker of the House of Representatives, has been defeated for re-election by Perry, Democrat. The defeat of so high an officer as Speaker of the House is a great triumph.

The New York Herald says the vote in the State on the amendment to the Constitution to allow negro suffrage, is overwhelmingly against such amendment.

The Pike's Peak papers report the names of a large number of the miners, speculators and others in that region, who are "leaving for America," adding generally that "they will return in the spring."

"Dug! Little Dug, I say you're a demagogue," stammered a drunken individual, who staggered to the front of a crowd which Douglas was addressing. But the witty Doug retorted with a telling emphasis, and without a moment's pause: "If some one would put a few wisps of straw around you, you'd be a demijohn."

The heart of Mr. Hiram D. Pierce, a blacksmith in Troy, was gladdened a few days ago by the return of his "long lost son," who had been away from home for nine years, and who, it was supposed, had been lost from the masthead of a vessel on which he was a sailor.

A GOOD ONE.—The Cleveland Plain Dealer tells a good one on the Duke of New Castle. While stopping at the Burnett House he occupied a room lettered "L," and finding it locked one time on his return from a stroll through the city, he astonished the clerk in attendance by inquiring for "the key to hell." Here is where the laugh comes in.

New York City is getting to be almost as bad as Paris in the non-attendance of its population at Church on the Sabbath. Reliable statistics, according to the New York Evangelist, a Presbyterian organ, show that only 200,000 out of 900,000 in the city go to all the churches on Sunday.

ANSON BURLINGAME, of Massachusetts, said: "The times demand, and we must have an Anti-slavery Constitution, an Anti-slavery Bible, and an Anti-slavery God." Even the stomach of Massachusetts Republicanism could not stand such sentiments, and its author has been defeated for Congress, where the Reverend political profligate will no more appear.

LINCOLN voted for himself—for his own electors—at Springfield, Illinois. All the Republican papers, instead of being ashamed to mention the fact, publish it as something worthy of great commendation in "Old Abe." Douglas was in Alabama on the day of the Presidential Election. Lincoln should have been complimentary enough to his competitor to have paired off with him.

CURE FOR DUMPS.—The Gazette Medicale of France says that, by an accident, charcoal has been discovered to be a cure for dums. By laying a piece of cold charcoal upon a burn, the pain subsides immediately. By leaving the charcoal on one hour, the wound is healed, as has been demonstrated on several occasions. The remedy is cheap and simple, and certainly deserves a trial.

The irrepressibles have elected Lincoln President, and among the first results we have to announce that exchange on the east, which on election day was from one-half to three-quarters per cent. premium, has since that run up to and is now five per cent. premium. Our Columbus business men who labored for the triumph of the Rail Splitter, must feel that thus far their work has not produced any very good fruit. It would puzzle some of them now to follow "herra for honest Old Abe." Experience is a dear school.

MIRAMON has earned the title of the Mexican Nero. Not long since a man ventured to implore him to grant peace to the distracted country. The tyrant's only answer was to sentence the suppliant to receive five hundred lashes. When three hundred and fifty had been administered, Miramon was informed that the man was dying. "Let the remainder," he said, "be given to the dead body; my order must be carried out."

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE AMALGAMATION OF LANGUAGES.—There is a growing tendency in this age to appropriate the expressive words of other languages, and after a while to incorporate them into our own; thus the word cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming popular in common use with Mr. Spalding's great Headache remedy, but it will soon be used in a more general way, and the word cephalic will become as common as electricity, and the word cephalic will be used by common usage until they seem "native and to the manner born."

Hardly Realized.

It is hardly realized that this afternoon, hand in hand with the hypochondriac hand says to the man, "Can you guess me an 'ache'?" "Does it ache?" says he. "Heckedgingly," says he, hand upon his head, "Gee! the Cephalic will hand 'em out 'till it cures me so quick that I hardly realized I 'ad an 'ache'."

HEADACHE is the favorite sign by which nature makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain, and viewed in this light it may be looked on as a safeguard intended to give notice of disease, which might otherwise escape attention, and to lead to its removal, and to aches may be classified under two names, viz: Symptomatic and Idiopathic. Symptomatic Headache is exceedingly common, and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, Gout, Rheumatism and all febrile diseases. In no case, however, is it the precursor of disease of the stomach constituting sick headache, of hepatic disease constituting biliary headache, of worms, constipation and other disorders of the bowels, as well as neural and uterine affections. Disease of the heart are very frequently attended with Headaches. Anemia and plethora are also affections which frequently occasion headache. Idiopathic Headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nerve headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of apparently sound health, and continuing for once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or acridity of temper. In most instances the pain is in front of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under this class may also be named Neuralgia.

For the treatment of either class of Headache the Cephalic Pills have been found a safe and reliable remedy, relieving the patient of the distressing and painful nature of the disease, and eradicating the diseases of which Headache is the warning index.

BRIDGE.—Missus wants you to send her a box of Cephalic Pills, no, a bottle of Prepared Pills, but I'm thinking that's not just what she wants, perhaps you'll be better knowing what it is. Yes, she's a high head and gone with the Sick Headache, and wants some more of that same as she's relieved her before.

BRIDGE.—You must mean Spalding's Cephalic Pills.

BRIDGE.—Och! sure now and you've said it, here's the quarter and give me the Pills and don't be all day about it either.

Constipation or Costiveness.

No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as Constipation. Often originating in carelessness, or sedentary habits, it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite anxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangerous diseases, and unless early eradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the lighter evils of which constipation is the usual attendant are Headache, C. in Rheumatism, Cold, Flatulency, Piles and others of like nature, while a long train of frightful diseases such as Malignant Fever, Abscess, Dysentery, Diarrhea, Dyspepsia, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hysteria, Hemiplegia, Melancholia, and many others, are caused by its presence in the system by its alarming symptoms. Not infrequently the diseases named originate in Constipation, but take on an independent existence, unless the cause is eradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations it follows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it is manifested, and should not neglect to get a box of Cephalic Pills on the first appearance of the complaint, as they timely use will expel the insidious approach of disease and destroy this dangerous foe to the human life.

A Real Blessing.

Physician.—Well, Mrs. Jones, how is that head?

Mrs. Jones.—Gone! Doctor, all gone! the pill you sent cured me in just twenty minutes, and I say you would send me so that I can have them again.

Physician.—You can get them at any Drug Store. Call for Cephalic Pills. I find they never fail, and I recommend them in all cases of Headache.

Mrs. Jones.—I shall send for a box directly, and shall tell all my suffering friends, for they are a real blessing.

Twenty Millions of Dollars saved.—Mr. Spalding has sold two millions of bottles of his celebrated Prepared Pills and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least one dollar worth of broken furniture, thus making an aggregate of twenty millions of dollars reclaimed from total loss by this valuable invention. Having made this claim, we have no doubt that the world will greatly benefit by curing all the aching heads with his Cephalic Pills, and if they are as good as he claims, Headaches will soon vanish away like snow in July.

OVER EXCITEMENT, and the mental error and anxiety incident to close attention to business or study, are among the numerous causes of Nervous Headache. The disordered state of mind and body incident to this distressing complaint is a fatal blow to all energy and ambition, and is cured by this disorder can always obtain speedy relief from these distressing attacks by using one of the Cephalic Pills whenever the symptoms appear. It cures the overworked brain, and soothes the strained and jarring nerves, and relaxes the tension of the stomach which always accompanies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain.

FACT WORTH KNOWING.—Spalding's Cephalic Pills are a certain cure for Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Nervous Headache, Costiveness and General Debility.

GREAT DISCOVERY.—Among the most important of all the great medical discoveries of this age may be considered the system of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the German method of relief of Herpes, and the use of Quinine for the prevention of Fevers, which will be experienced by a sure specific, whose benefits will be experienced by suffering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotten.

Headache.

By the use of these Pills the periodic attacks of Nervous or Sick Headache may be prevented, and if taken at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained. They seldom fail in removing the Nausea and Headache to which females are so subject. They act gently upon the bowels, removing Costiveness. For Laryngeal Men, Students, Delicate Females, and all persons of sedentary habits, they are valuable as a laxative, invigorating the system, giving tone and vigor to the digestive organs, and restoring natural elasticity and strength of the whole system. THE CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long investigation and carefully conducted experiments, having been in use many years during which time they have prevented and relieved a vast amount of pain and suffering from Headache, whether originating in the nervous system or from a disordered state of the stomach. They are entirely vegetable in their composition, and may be taken at all times with perfect safety, and without making any change of diet, and the absence of any disagreeable taste renders it easy to administer them to children.
